Notes:

I would prefer no Roseart brand since they do not seem to work very well. I have found that along with Crayola, Targets Up & Up brand work very well and are half the price of Crayola. 😊 Unfortunately, there will be no shared supplies this year. I have created toolkits with manipulatives for each child and individual center folders. As much as possible, everything has been color coded and numbered to make it easy to keep track of everything. Also, please make sure your child has a set of school supplies at home in case of a shut down.
